RE: East Fork of Virgin River
Distribution

Dear Sir:

It has been brought to the attention of this office that you and perhaps others have during the past year constructed erosion control dams and that you are now using these dams as points of diversion to divert water for irrigation purposes. No application has been filed in this office to appropriate water by you and neither have you filed a Change Application changing the points of diversion on your water rights. If you have changed the points of diversion, the enclosed form should be filled out and filed in this office and you have no right to make any diversions from a new point of diversion that will affect any rights either junior or senior adversely.

Will you therefore, if the above is true kindly file the application needed to clear up this situation.

Very truly yours,

Joseph M. Tracy
STATE ENGINEER.
